Editor's Note: Meaningful Measures is the Sea Coast Echo's monthly feature highlighting inspirational people in Hancock County. The individuals featured are nominated by members of the community.

Today, Aug. 29, marks 19 years since Hurricane Katrina made landfall in Hancock County. Here at the Echo, staff felt it would be fitting for this month's Meaningful Measures to feature the volunteers at Waveland's LiLi Stahler-Murphy Ground Zero Hurricane Museum.

In August 2013, eight years after Katrina, the museum opened its doors, thanks to the efforts of the late LiLi Stahler-Murphy and Basil Kennedy.

In 2020, the museum was dedicated to Stahler-Murphy's memory.

The museum is housed in a historic building built in 1927, which was once Waveland Elementary School. The building is city-owned and was the only building left standing on Coleman Avenue in Waveland after Hurricane Katrina. It is on the National Historic Registry.

There is only one paid position at the museum — the rest — which includes board members and museum tour guides are volunteers.

The museum board members include: Board chair Bernie Cullen, board secretary Donna Martin, John Dumoulin, Basil Kennedy, Maurice Singleton, Rhonda Price, Rick Hill, Tom Stone, and Donald Murphy.

DONALD MURPHY

Murphy is a volunteer board member and has been a part of the museum since its beginnings.

"One day we (he and his wife LiLi Stahler-Murphy) were walking out of Peoples Bank and Basil Kennedy was still working at the bank and he said 'I have an idea,'" Murphy said. "We need a hurricane museum and, as you know, you never suggested anything to LiLi. So, the next thing I know I was putting glass in window's frames from houses that were damaged where we could put pictures in them and hang them on the wall."

Bayside man arrested for murder

ECHO STAFF

Hancock County sheriff's deputies arrested a Bayside Park man for murder early Friday morning after a man who was shot on Thursday evening died from his wound.

At around 9 p.m. on Thursday, "Hancock County Sheriff's deputies responded to the 6000 block of East Grenada Street in reference to a shooting," Sheriff's Criminal Investigations Division Cmdr. Kris Robbins said in a press release Friday. "Upon arrival, deputies found a male victim to be suffering from a single gunshot wound and who later succumbed to his injuries. Also on the property, deputies found and detained Ronald Zoerner (age 38). After an investigation into the incident, Zoerner was arrested and charged with first-degree murder and is currently being detained at the Hancock County Jail on a one million dollar bond.

"The investigation into this incident is on-going," Robbins said. The name of the victim has not yet been publicly released.

An initial hearing in the case has been scheduled Sept. 24 in Hancock Justice Court.

Hancock native celebrates 101st birthday surrounded by family

Bertha Mae Ladner recently celebrated her 101st birthday.

BY GEOFF BELCHER
PUBLISHER

Bertha Mae Ladner Homer — known as “Aunt Bert” my her host of nieces and nephews — recently celebrated her 101st birthday in Lakeshore, surrounded by five generations of her loved ones.

“She has been a mother to all of us,” her niece

Sandra Lander Rose said last week. “She is truly the matriarch of our family.”

“I just live a clean life,” Bertha said, commenting on her longevity.

“My mother told me to always eat my vegetables and I always had very good food to eat. And I always went to church — that’s one of the things we do.” She’s a life-long member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Bertha was the fifth of seven children, born Aug. 7, 1923, to Sylvester Ladner and Laura Wainwright Ladner, at Bayou Lacroix, where she grew up fishing on the bayou.

“I always loved to fish,” she said. “I don’t like to eat fish, but I like to catch them.”

In 1942, she married Martin Homer, Jr., and they moved to Kiln. They had one son together, Martin Homer, III.

“We were very lucky when I was growing up, because she didn’t work,” Martin III said.

“I was a stay-at-home mom,” Bertha added with a grin.

However, the family eventually moved to Metairie, where Bertha went to work for East Jefferson Water Works until her retirement in May of 1983. They moved back to Hancock County in 1980, so the last three years she worked there, she commuted every day, she said.

Martin Jr. passed away in 1998, but Bertha was still surrounded by her growing family.

“Every Sunday, our whole family would come for lunch at mama’s house and we would really enjoy being together,” Martin III said. “And that’s what keeps us together.”

Bertha’s 100th birthday was a huge blow-out with lots of people, Martin said, but they wanted to keep it “simple” and “just for the family,” for her 101st, so there were only about 75 people present.

Bertha now has four grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren and six great-great grandchildren, and loves every minute of being around them.

“I’m just a good person, and a loving homemaker,” she said. “You want to be outstanding in all you do, and I really try to do that.”

Waveland to host ‘Labor Day at the Lighthouse’

ECHO STAFF

This Sunday, Sept. 1, city of Waveland is hosting “Labor Day at the Lighthouse.”

Waveland Mayor Jay Trapani invites the public to enjoy music, classic cars, and vendors.

“There will be snowballs by Bayou Snowballs, Rolling in the Dough will be serving pretzels, and Ms. Short will have her food truck serving BBQ, jambalaya, burgers and hot dogs,” Trapani said. “The day will be capped off by the Kings of Neon with their exciting show and at 9 p.m. with fireworks. We weren’t able to shoot the fireworks last year because of the burn ban. It will be hot, but plan on coming out and enjoying the day.”

The schedule of events for the day:

Misfits Cruise In from 3 to 9 p.m.

Sons of Uh Beech from 3 to 4:45 p.m.

Joni Compretta and Baytown Groove from 5 to 6:45 p.m.

Kings of Neon from 7 to 9 p.m.

Fireworks at 9 p.m.

The Waveland Lighthouse is located on the beach at the end of Coleman Avenue.

Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks (MDWFP) law enforcement’s investigation unit and field officers executed four search warrants involving five people last weekend in Hancock, Kemper, and Scott counties. “All were violators of our natural resources ranging from overharvesting and failure to report wild turkeys to overharvesting white-tailed deer,” according to an MDWFP press release issued Friday.

“Evidence recovered in the search warrants included 10 white-tailed deer, 83 turkeys, 11 firearms, and controlled substances which included methamphetamine, cocaine, and other drug paraphernalia,” according to the press release. “Two out of the five suspects were charged with drug possession. Wildlife charges are currently still under investigation.” “I am proud of our conservation officers for their dedication to protecting fish and wildlife populations through enforcing the laws and regulations that help keep our state’s natural resources thriving,” MDWFP Chief of Law Enforcement Col. Jerry Carter said. “Thank you to the MDWFP investigation unit and field officers involved in these search warrants last weekend.” For more information regarding hunting, fishing and boating regulations in Mississippi, visit our website at www.mdwfp.com or call us at 601-432-2176. NOTICE OF A TAX INCREASE AND A PUBLIC HEARING ON THE PROPOSED BUDGET AND PROPOSED TAX LEVIES FOR HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing on its proposed budget and proposed tax levies for fiscal year 2024-2025 on September 6, 2024, at 8:30 a.m at the County Boardroom at 854 Highway 90, Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, 39520, and proposed budget adoption on September 13, 2024, at 8:30 a.m. at the same location.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors is now operating with projected total budget revenue of $61,468,663 (46 percent) or $28,116,255 of such revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For next fiscal year, the proposed budget has total projected revenue of $62,307,151. Of that amount, (47 percent) or $29,092,973 is proposed to be financed through a total ad valorem tax levy.

For next fiscal year, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors plans to increase your ad valorem tax millage rate by 0.81 mills from 44.48 mills to 45.29 mills. This increase in the millage rate and budgeted ad valorem revenues is required by the Hancock County School District’s increase in its tax levy request for the support of the School District’s operations and maintenance programs for the District’s 2024-2025 fiscal year. This increase means that you will pay more in ad valorem taxes on your home, automobile tag, utilities, business fixtures and equipment and rental real property.

Any citizen of Hancock County, Mississippi is invited to attend this public hearing on the proposed budget and tax levies for fiscal year 2025, and will be allowed to speak for a reasonable amount of time and offer tangible evidence before any vote is taken.

Flag Retirement Program

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service. Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display. We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaise Avenue and Main Street.

"We pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

just finished redoing it,” he said. “Since it was FEMA money and the only building on the national historic registry, it had to be redone in the same way, same style that it was before. That was the beginning of the museum. We never thought it would end up with what we have here now. Murphy said the volunteers are a “critical” part of the museum.

“There is only one paid person that’s connected with the museum,” Murphy said. “Everything else, including the entire board for the museum, are all unpaid volunteers.”

Murphy said the museum needs more volunteers.

In 2021, a project that was dear to Stahler-Murphy’s heart came to fruition, which was the opening of the Smithsonian’s exhibit, “Crossroads: Change in Rural America,” at the hurricane museum.

“The real start of the rebirth of it was the Smithsonian exhibit,” he said. “That was something that brought a lot of people,” he said. “Later, we found out that we had the largest attendance of any museum in Mississippi that did the exhibit. It’s been an experience. It’s something that we’re very proud of.”

Next year, August 2025, will mark the 20th commemoration of Hurricane Katrina.

“We’re going to work with anyone who wants to jump,” Murphy said. “What we’re attempting to do is contact everybody that we can in any way possible that participated as a volunteer or helped rebuilding and have them all come back next year.”

Murphy said he didn’t have a favorite room per se.

“I look at all the rooms and see what we want to do and the things that we want to change about it,” he said. “Right now, the work and effort that went into getting the H.C. Porter paintings is probably one of my favorites.”

LOLIE KULL

Kull started volunteering for the museum in 2016.

A friend, who helped with construction on their home, took her to the Ground Zero Museum where she met then-museum director Linda Aiavolasiti to seek out a volunteer opportunity.

“And it really was the smartest thing I did, because I didn’t know anybody,” Kull said.

She meet Stahler-Murphy, Cullen, and Martin.

“I got to meet all the wonderful people here,” she said. “It’s been really a wonderful experience, because I enjoy meeting the people that come in. I enjoy telling them the stories about Waveland, Bay St. Louis, even Clermont Harbor because nobody knows where that is, although it’s starting to be recognized now because they’re building houses everywhere.”

Kull said volunteering gives her the opportunity to “make sure people understand that if a hurricane’s coming, they need to leave, because it’s just too dangerous.”

Kull said she also gets to find out information about all the different people who visit the museum, why they come, and what they like about this area.

Kull said the museum is “extremely important” to the city of Waveland.

“I think the city is missing an opportunity to have more things on this street,” she said. “It’s great to have the museum, it’s great to have the bakery, it’s great to have the playground, but what else do people do in Waveland?”

Kull said her favorite thing to have in the museum is visitors.

“It’s amazing to have them come in and see the museum and listen to what took place during the storm and look at all the things that are here,” she said. “And, then, in general, if you ask a question, they’ll start talking about where they live and what they have and what they experience in different areas. So, I think that’s really good.”

Kull said visitors relate to certain items housed in the museum, like the quilts and share memories of days gone by in their own lives.

“Different places in this museum bring memories to people, even if they haven’t been here before,” she said.

Kull also mentioned the H.C. Porter room.

“You have the photographs that were painted and you can see the people and you have all the storms listed on the back,” she said.

She said that people will often mention that they remember a particular storm.

There is also a storm-surge comparison in the H.C. Porter room between Hurricane Camille and Hurricane Katrina, she said.

“Camille’s storm surge was very small and Katrina’s was very big,” Kull said. “It’s important, especially for new people that have moved into this area, to understand the fact that, if there’s a storm coming, they need to be prepared and get out because so many people thought they could survive by going in their attic, because they went in their attic for Camille. If they went in their attic for Katrina and didn’t have a way to get out, they never came out of their attic alive. I think it’s extremely important for them to understand the things that they need to be prepared for when a storm’s coming, because you just don’t know.”

TOM STONE

Stone has been a volunteer board member since January 2024.

Stone, who is originally from New Orleans, moved to the area in 2019.

In 2005, Stone said, they evacuated to Picayune during Hurricane Katrina and “caught the eye there.”

“That’s where my parents lived,” he said. “There were lots of tornadoes. They had 10 acres with the biggest pine trees you ever did see and it looked like a matchstick factory.”

Stone said the museum showcases the resilience of the community.

“I think it’s a good thing for the younger generation around here to see what a storm can do,” he said. “You walk through these halls and you’re like ‘good God, how does anybody even live here anymore?’ But I’m a Betsy survivor. My dad said, ‘let’s get in the attic,’ and then it came over on this little transistor radio and said that if you’re in an attic and you don’t have an axe, get out of your attic because people are drowning in Chalmette in their attics.”

Stone also lends his graphic design talents to the museum, which includes a museum brochure.

Stone said his favorite room is the “Waveland Room.”

“I think it gives a great history of the whole area and that’s what I think young kids should see,” he said. “To me, it’s (the museum) a piece of history to look back on because I used to come here when I was a kid.”

KAREN STEWART

Stewart moved to Waveland in the Fall of 2021 and started volunteering at the museum in the spring of 2022.

A native Mississippian, Stewart said, she lived in Southern California for more than 30 years. She still had family in Hattiesburg and Vicksburg.

“I was a volunteer here after Katrina, giving a lot of tetanus shots with the Department of Public Health at Camp Katrina where Walgreens is today,” she said. “With the assistance of my boss, who was the chief nurse at our hospital, a donor paid for two RVs and 10 of us traveled from Southern California to be here for 10 days. It was a life-changing experience for all of us. The resilience of the people. The determination. The kindness. The community that was created at Camp Katrina. I decided then, that when I retired, I wanted to live here.”

When she moved here, Stewart attended one of MEMA’s annual preparedness seminars at the museum. After that, she decided she wanted to volunteer.

Stewart said she enjoys meeting people.

“I was primarily a nurse educator for many years,” she said. “I think education is very important. Education for the folks that come through. Even if they don’t live in a hurricane-prone area, we see a lot of folks from the midwest and you can talk to them about tornadoes and find some common ground there and appreciate the importance of preparedness.”

Her favorite room is the quilt room, which features quilts made by Solveig Wells, who used salvaged fabric and scraps from amongst the debris to make the Katrina Quilt Series.

“The quilt room, to me, is almost sacred,” she said. “Mrs. Wells’ contribution with her beautiful quilts that she made with the remnants she found in the debris on the beach takes tragedy and makes it into something beautiful. That’s my favorite place.”

Her second favorite, she said, is the video exhibit.

“I appreciate why people who did live here don’t want to watch that video,” she said. “I think it brings home the devastation, the resilience, the importance of preparedness, and people will leave from time to time and they’ll say, ‘I thought this was all in New Orleans?’ and, as sobering as it is to watch it, I think it also reminds people that tragedies, natural disasters, are more than this one thing. This was the natural disaster, in many respects, New Orleans was a man-made disaster.”

RHONDA PRICE

Price has been a volunteer board member since January 2024; however, she has worked with the museum before through her job with the Mississippi Coast National Heritage Area.

“In the past, we’ve given the museum funds for the Smithsonian, the oral histories and the quilt room,” she said. “It’s been a great partnership.”

Price said the museum is important to the area and serves as a reminder.

“It also allows other visitors to come in, see what life was like and is like in Waveland and what they had to go through,” she said. “That they weren’t bound or defeated, but through community spirit and friendship, they were able to rise above a lot of adversity. This is a building of resilience.”

As a board member, Price said, one tries to find things that “bring out the best in the museum, that people would find value in, bringing awareness and working on that outreach and education about how valuable this museum is to the city, not only for tourism, but as a keepsake.”

Price said her favorite room is also the quilt room.

“It’s handmade,” she said. “There’s a lot of love that went into those quilts, along with a lot of hard work.”

Price said partnerships and volunteers are vital to the museum

“Volunteers can come from anywhere, even if you’re new to the community,” Price said. “Volunteering allows you to meet the people in the community and I think the museum could really be a hub for that community spirit. People could come and not only see great exhibits that are going to in the future come and go, but also have that community spirit that I think builds in how resilient this area is and having the school still stand as a remembrance and having those people come in and volunteer their time just like they did after the storm just makes for a solid foundation for the city.”

RICK HILL

Hill is a volunteer board member and also volunteers to host tours at the museum from time to time for the past four years.

In 2019, when Hill and his wife Bonnie Garner moved to Waveland, the Murphys lived around the corner.

“We used to walk and we’d bump into them and they invited Bonnie into their little community there,” he said.

Hill said Stahler-Murphy asked him to join the board.

He was living in North Mississippi at the time Hurricane Katrina hit and working in the environmental side of public health.

“We responded and came down,” he said. “My supervisors and I actually got stationed in Hattiesburg. Hattiesburg was a mess, too, nothing like this, but to be 85 miles inland, it was in remarkably bad shape.”

When the couple moved to Waveland, Hill said, his wife wanted to be close to the water.

“Regardless of the fact that we’re in a hurricane museum, I first saw the water as just a beautiful natural resource,” Hill said. “But now, I see it as a threat and a beautiful natural resource.”

During a tour, Hill said, he gets people with a look at the dates on the wall and the waterline.

“It’s just amazing to me, the folks,” he said. “We’ve got some statistics about the folks that come here. The vast majority are not only from outside Mississippi, but outside the country. We have folks from Canada, Germany, France, Colombia, and I know I’m leaving out many more, just from everywhere. It just shows you what this place means to this community. Folks just don’t come from all over the world to just nothing. This is the most important attraction in Waveland. The sheer number of visitors, which is in the thousands, every year, it brings in dollars too. I don’t see that as the most important thing about the museum and the visitors.”

Hill said his one of his favorite parts of the museum is the calendar of events that runs through the main hallway.

“The room with the oral history puts a face to it for me,” he said.

Lining the walls of Sugar Pop Bakery, which is housed in the same building, are pictures that former Waveland Mayor Mike Smith took of Coleman the day prior to Hurricane Katrina, Hill said.

“For me, that shows what the place looked like then,” he said. “It just looked like a Main Street in any small Mississippi town. And to see it all gone, except for this building, after Katrina, is just a remarkable reminder of how powerful the storm was and how resilient we are. We may not have rebuilt Coleman Avenue, but people have rebuilt their lives. This is not just about hurricanes, this is about natural disasters, how we respond to them, how we come together and recover from them. That can be tornadoes, earthquakes, wildfires. This is relevant to anyone, anywhere.”

MAURICE SINGLETON

Singleton has been a volunteer board member for about three years.

He said he was inspired by a desire to support the museum.

“LiLi was very involved in my church at St. Rose,” he said. “I was close to LiLi and Donald and I just wanted to support what they were doing. Waveland didn’t have a museum and being a museum that was dedicated to hurricane awareness, I thought was a great idea, just to show the resilience of the people here in Hancock County.”

Singleton said he was here for both Hurricane Camille and Katrina.

At the time of Katrina, he lived north of the railroad tracks on Pecan Park Drive.

“The railroad tracks served as a buffer, we didn’t get the serious water,” he said. “I was here for Camille and Katrina and just to see the resilience of the people from both storms and how we get past that type of devastation, I just think it says a lot about the character of the people and their love for this area. I think it is important to share that so that we realities of what happened here and it also keeps alive the memories of those who lost their lives.

As a Katrina survivor, I do want to thank the volunteers for sharing the stories.

For me, I don't like to dwell on it, even though every time I drive up Highway 603, I pass by the empty property where my childhood home once stood.

It took a while, but even with all the rebuilding, etc., I realized the hometown I grew up in will never be the same again. It's something I truly mourn and as the years go by, memories of my home seem to get harder and harder to bring to life in my mind.

I think about the resiliency of the people who I grew up with here. It takes a lot of strength to pick up the pieces and rebuild when it seems the odds are stacked against you.

That's the real story shared at the museum, waking up the next day after your corner of the world is wiped away and helping your neighbor, keeping the memories of those who passed away alive, and stressing the importance of being as prepared as you can for storms by learning from the many lessons Hurricane Katrina taught us.

php?g=619342&p=4310783. Our solution is to subscribe to many online newspapers: The New York Times, The Washington Post, The Chicago Tribune, The New Orleans Times-Picayune, and, most importantly, The Sea Coast Echo. Let's face facts: Why would you believe some outrageous rumor a neighbor or friend told you? You wouldn't, not without verifying in some way from someone else who might know the facts. This is why reading those newspapers is so important to us. Journalists don't print rumors—they must verify from multiple sources before printing when there is something seemingly questionable. (Of course, this does not apply to "Opinion" pieces, always clearly labeled). But the newspapers get us closest to verifiable information.

Why don't we trust "the Internet?" Obviously that is because there is no such requirement of double checking and multiple sources to anything that is published there. I remember one of my first attempts at using the Internet in class, asking students to look up information on our author, Salman Rushdie. The first result Google searches gave seemed plausible—but what they had was from a Muslim site which had put out a death sentence on the author—hardly an unbiased source. In those days, one could look up the URL of the website to see the source. Nowadays, of course, things come at one without giving a source at all—all offered as true.

How to bring up children in such a world baffles me—glad I no longer have to teach in such a wild west anarchic environment. But to take anything one finds on line as gospel has to be the worst kind of gullibility that we should all try to avoid. And perhaps the younger generation will be more familiar with the disinformation that comes on line.

ered a delicacy. Pig's feet were pickled." This kind of "snout to tail" eating used every part of the hog as a food source except the "oink!"

Pork has been part of human cuisine for over five thousand years and was the principle source of meat in the United States until the turn of the Twentieth Century when the stockyards of Chicago transported cattle from Texas and after slaughter, beef meat was transported to the grocery stores of New England and New York. Over the last two centuries in America, hogs have crept into our everyday language with commonplace expressions such as "going whole hog," living or eating "high on the hog," teenagers going "hog wild" in behavior, or selfish politicians "hogging the spotlight" at public events. The expression "hog heaven" means a very satisfying state or situation.

• ROY “PEEWEE” JOSEPH DEDEAUX JR.

• WILLIAM “BILL” LADY

ROY “PEEWEE” JOSEPH DEDEAUX, JR.

Roy “PeeWee” Joseph Dedeaux, Jr., 75, of Bay St. Louis, MS, passed away on Monday, August 19, 2024, leaving behind a legacy cherished by his family and friends.

PeeWee was born and raised in New Orleans, LA, and moved to Bay St. Louis at a young age. He took great pride in his service with the United States Navy and was an avid fisherman, particularly fond of floundering. He enjoyed many fishing trips with family and friends and spent countless hours at “the camp” in Ansley. A devoted New Orleans Saints fan, he never missed a game, even if it meant listening to it on the radio from his boat.

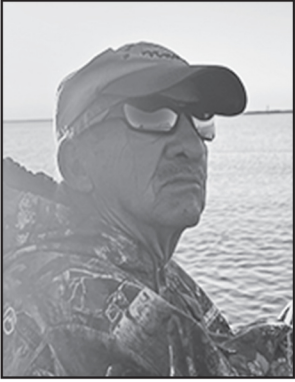

Alongside his wife, Leverna, PeeWee co-owned the renowned Benigno’s Restaurant in Bay St. Louis, where he became the welcoming face of the business, greeting customers with enthusiasm. He was also an active member of the American Legion Post 139 and the Italian Society.

PeeWee’s love for his grandchildren was boundless, and he often took pride in their accomplishments. His unique spirit and warmth will be deeply missed by all who knew him.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Roy and Violet Dedeaux; his in-laws, Sam and Geraldine Benigno; his stepson, Christopher Russ; and his son-in-law, Tim McDonald.

PeeWee is survived by his devoted wife, Leverna Benigno Dedeaux; his children, Steve Dedeaux (Tara), Michelle Dedeaux, Brandy Deibel (Andy), Joseph Dedeaux (Whitney), and Edward Dedeaux (Ashley); his grandchildren, Ethan McDonald, Jackson McDonald, Amaya Dedeaux, Reid Dedeaux, Mason Dedeaux, Hannah Deibel, Coby Deibel, Joe Dedeaux, Riley Dedeaux, Trace Dedeaux, and Grady Dedeaux; and his three sisters, Patsy Oliver (Wayne), Janice Dedeaux, and Terry Waltman (Dale), and numerous nieces and nephews. His children and grandchildren will carry forward his spirit and memory.

A Celebration of Life will be held in honor of Roy Joseph Dedeaux, Jr. on August 22, 2024, from 5:30 PM to 8:30 PM at the Bay St. Louis Community Center, located at 301 Blaize Ave, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. This gathering will provide family and friends an opportunity to come together, share stories, and celebrate the remarkable life PeeWee lived.

WILLIAM “BILL” LADY

It is with heavy hearts that we announce the passing of William “Bill” Lady, a beloved husband, father, grandfather, and friend. Bill, aged 69, loved the Mississippi Gulf Coast and was so proud to be one of the founders and board of directors for the beloved event Cruisin’ the Coast.

Bill was born in Chicago, Illinois and raised in a suburb of the city. In 1976 Bill’s parents purchased the Waveland Resort Inn and he moved to Hancock County shortly after to be a part of the family business. Bill believed strongly and encouraged tourism for establishing a tax base for all businesses on the Gulf Coast. He paved the way for casinos to be approved in the state of Mississippi, was a long-time member of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Hotel/Motel association, and he not only started the Hancock County Tourism Board but served as president for many years.

In addition to his professional achievements, Bill cared deeply for his family and friends. He is survived by his loving wife of 45 years, Pattie Lady, his two daughters Michelle Ball (Colton), Ashley Lady, and his cherished grandsons Jackson and John Cohen Ball. He also leaves behind his nieces Jennifer Underwood, her three girls (Gracie, Londyn, and Brooklyn), Pamela Lady-Ladnier and her daughter (Addison), along with his extended Derry/Huggins family. Bill’s loved ones left behind find some comfort in knowing he is reunited with his brothers and best friends Jim Lady, Steve Lady, his parents Milford and Evelyn Lady, his mother-in-law Patricia Derry, and sister-in-law Suzette Huggins.

Bill enjoyed antique corvettes and spending time on his pier watching the sunsets. He loved life and lived it with a smile on his face. Bill’s presence will be deeply missed, but his memory will live on in the hearts of all who knew and loved him.

A celebration of life to honor Bill’s life will be held later this year.

have that experiences to share for future storms, for people visiting.”

Singleton said his favorite room is “Discovery Alley,” which houses the hurricane simulator and is a space for children of all ages.

“I think it’s important that the children learn from the museum and that’s a good teacher,” he said. “Any time you can teach kids outside the classroom, I think it is very valuable. The experience of Discovery Alley is a great teaching tool.”

Singleton described the museum board as “very good” and “resourceful.”

“Bernie Cullen and Donna Martin do a great job at leadership and keeping us engaged in the process,” he said. “I think it’s an outstanding board.”

BERNIE CULLEN AND DONNA MARTIN

Cullen and Martin, along with their roles on the board, volunteer during the museum’s hours and host tours.

Cullen said they invite everyone to visit the museum to see what it’s about and if it’s something they would like to volunteer for. The days and hours are flexible, she said.

“It’s just so nice to talk to these visitors,” she said. “They come from all over. They come because they’re really interested. Most of them have looked on TripAdvisor or the Internet about what to do on the Coast, so that’s how most people find us. They are intending to come here. They really want to know ‘how did you do it?’ ‘how did you rebuild?’ ‘why do you live in an area where this can happen?’ And we tell them, what happens where you live? There’s no paradise. There’s no place where you don’t have a natural disaster. One of the nice things about living here is that you have warnings. You know it’s coming. We can save ourselves, we can save the precious things that are priceless to us. Yeah, we may have to come back, clean up, rebuild. But, we did it. We bond together as a community and they appreciate that.”

Cullen said many visitors often share their own stories of volunteer work after natural disasters, which provides another learning opportunity for museum volunteers. Others come from small towns and understand the sense of community, she added.

“We are small town America,” she said. “We have Christmas parades and Santa Claus comes and we have St. Patrick’s Day and we have festivals. It’s kind of that idyllic world and we’re just prepared during hurricane season. It’s worth it. It’s just worth being here.”

Cullen added that volunteering is a “wonderful” way to also meet people in your community, along with people from all over the world.

“I was amazed one Saturday, a young girl about 15 from Austria knew all about Katrina because they taught it in school in Austria,” she said. “I was spellbound, I was speechless.”

Martin said her perspective on the museum is different.

“I look at this as being the people’s museum,” she said. “Everybody has a story of where they were when Katrina hit. Everyone that comes into this museum shares their story with us and I see this museum, not necessarily as the hurricane museum, but as the museum for people to tell their stories.”

Martin said that a museum “cannot stand alone without developing their audience.”

“When we started talking about having children’s activities, having children come into the museum, we started from zero,” Martin said. “We’re gradually building our school house of activities for children.”

Martin said the museum has plans to team up with the Hancock County Career Center.

“They have two programs that they are using high school students that are training for employment working with children,” she said. “They are going to come in and be a part of children’s day in the museum. They’re going to teach the lessons. We’re also working on having a special-needs day every quarter in the museum and they’re going to help us with that. We can’t grow if we don’t bring children into this institution. This is a dream come true to have students teaching children. That’s a powerful impact in our community.”

Martin, who is also a former educator, said volunteers will oversee the lesson plans, which will be science-based.

“This is going to be a very hands-on, activity-based day in the museum,” she added.

Cullen said one of their more successful additions for children are coloring quilt squares. There is a station in the quilt room set aside for coloring.

“There’s nothing as satisfying as watching mom and dad sit there and color with their children,” she said.

Martin said guests can choose to leave their quilt squares for display at the museum or take them home.

“There’s power in that,” she said. “Because they have given us something of themselves.”

There is also a museum-based scavenger hunt and a separate scavenger hunt in the Porter room, Martin said.

Cullen and Martin both expressed their appreciation to the city of Waveland for allowing the museum the use of the building.

“We couldn’t do it without them,” Cullen said. “We’re doing our best to try and bring in more donations. I really do want to thank them for everything they’re doing. We love having Sugar Pop (Bakery) right there next door and they’re great partners.”

“The Beloved Community”

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. Gerald Richardson, D. MIN.

The Reverend Andy Andrews is an Episcopal priest who serves the diocese of Mississippi through the ministry of church vitality. His primary focus is that of uplifting the concept of “beloved community”. I first met Father Andrews several weeks ago when he was a guest at a board meeting for a ministry on which my wife and I serve. Later, we were with him again when he was a speaker at the congregation where we attend. It has been impressive to observe his work and to receive the benefit of his wisdom and spiritual insight.

His presentation at the local church was a rich experience of inspiration and challenge which, in part, took the form of four basic questions. These questions are critical in the formation of our lives. They hold significant relevance whether one is seeking to apply them in a religious/spiritual way, or simply in the life of the secular world. They are as follows:

*What do you love?

*What have you lost?

*Where do you hurt?

*What do you dream?

It would be hard to imagine a set of considerations which get more to the heart of our human experience. They provide a framework for conversations regarding the essential issues of our lives. Many of the problems and concerns which impact our modern culture have their genesis in these questions.

The focus of our love drives so much of life. The care that we feel for friends, family, children, grandchildren, and others who are important in our orbit of relationship arises from a place of love. It is the anchor which holds us in community. Without it we would be hopelessly adrift.

The experience of loss and pain often bring defining moments to the journey of life. Most of us have, at some point in time, stood beside an open grave attempting to say goodbye to one whom we have lost. We know that feeling of emptiness and the unfinished work of relationships which have ended before we were prepared. Of course, loss and pain come in other ways as well. Lost opportunities, fractured relationships, disappointing outcomes, and so much more contribute to the challenges which come to us in our lives. All of this is authentic to the human journey. It needs to be acknowledged, confronted, and owned. Failure to do so is likely to result in unhealthy baggage which can follow us for the remainder of our days.

What we dream provides the hopeful question. Our dreams point us to the future. It does not mean that we forget the past or those who have meant so much in life. Dreams hold the potential for hope and possibility. They lead us into that which is not yet, but can be, realized.

It is important to be reminded that these are not strictly religious issues. They lead us to a unique insight into our cultural spirit. Our world would benefit from deep reflection on these matters. I am grateful for such a dedicated and effective church leader as Father Andrews for holding them before us and inviting us to spend time with them.

LEGALS

ADVERTISEMENT FOR PROPOSALS

Notice is hereby given that the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission will receive unpriced technical proposals to prequalify vendors for:

One (1) Locomotive

The deadline for receipt of unpriced technical proposals is September 12, 2024, at 2:00 PM, local time. Unpriced proposals, including the Specification Response Form and all other documents, shall be submitted electronically at www.portairspacework.com.

Pursuant to MS Code 31-7-13 and House Bill 1109, this commodity will be procured through a multi-step procurement process, including a Reverse Auction. In Phase One, unpriced technical proposals are evaluated for potential acceptability based upon pre-determined criteria. In Phase Two, only those bidders whose technical proposals are determined acceptable shall be invited to provide priced bids for consideration. The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission encourages vendor participation in this multi-step process. Complete instructions are provided in the specifications package.

Specifications and detailed instructions regarding the bid process may be obtained by visiting the website www.portairspacework.com. Specification response forms, along with all other required information detailed in the bid instructions should be submitted no later than 2:00 PM on September 12, 2024, per the detailed bid instructions. Unpriced Specification Response submissions will be evaluated, and vendors meeting the required specifications will be invited to participate in the Electronic Reverse Auction process on September 17, 2024, at 10:00 AM. Approved vendors will be given detailed instructions regarding the reverse auction. The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission reserves the right to extend the auction date if necessary, to complete the pre-qualification process. Pricing will only be accepted from qualified bidders during the reverse auction process. For any questions relating to the electronic submittal or reverse auction process, please call PH Bidding Group at 662-407-0193.

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is an equal opportunity employer and hereby notifies all bidders that it will affirmatively ensure that, in any contract entered into pursuant to this advertisement, minority business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to this invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of race, color, sex, age, disability or national origin in consideration for an award.

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission reserves the right to reject any and all bids, waive technicalities, informalities or irregularities in the bids received, solicit new bids or to choose that bid which is deemed to be in the best interest of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

ORDINANCE NO. 669-08-2024

AN ORDINANCE OF THE BAY ST LOUIS CITY COUNCIL ADOPTING SHORT-TERM RENTAL REGISTRATION AND REGULATIONS

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI:

Be it known that on the 20th day of August, 2024, the Mayor and City Council for the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, at its regular meeting declare, find, authorize and approve, as follows:

WHEREAS, the City seeks to identify short-term rentals operating in the City, better ensure they operate in a manner consistent with public health and safety and promote accountability and preserve the established character of existing neighborhoods, gain contact information for code enforcement and compliance, and encourage the cooperation of short-term rental booking service providers in accomplishing these purposes; and

WHEREAS, short-term rentals are considered a valuable and needed use for those desiring to rent their property in exchange for compensation, and such use will aid and promote tourism; and

WHEREAS, The Mayor and City Council have determined that there is a need for the adoption of an ordinance to regulate short-term rentals in order to allow citizens the quiet enjoyment of their homes and properties; and

WHEREAS, after due consideration, the Mayor and the City Council now find and determine that it would be in the best interest of the City to adopt an ordinance requiring a city permit to operate a short-term rental property.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE GOVERNING AUTHORITY OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI, that this Ordinance shall be named the BAY ST. LOUIS SHORT-TERM RENTAL REGISTRATION AND REGULATION ORDINANCE and is as follows:

CHAPTER 53SHORT TERM RENTALS
ARTICLE I. SHORT TERM RENTALS

Sec. 53-100. - Definitions.

The following words, terms and phrases when used in this article, shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning: Administrator shall mean the city Zoning Administrator or the Mayors designee.

Advertising means the act of drawing the publics attention to a short-term rental. City shall mean the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. Conditioned Living Square Footage shall mean a temperature-controlled area within a building that can be heated or cooled, such as a living room, bedroom, or office. Conditioned spaces can be directly or indirectly heated or cooled using electricity or fossil fuels as an energy source. Dwelling Unit shall mean one or more rooms arranged, designed, or used as independent living quarters for a single household. Buildings with more than one kitchen or more than one set of cooking facilities are deemed to contain multiple dwelling units unless the additional cooking facilities are clearly accessory and not intended to serve additional households. Occupant(s) shall mean the person or persons who have rented the short-term rental and their guest(s).

Owner shall mean the person or entity that holds legal and/or equitable title to the dwelling unit. A person whose interest in a dwelling unit is solely that of a tenant, subtenant, lessee, or sublessee under an oral or written rental housing agreement shall not be considered an owner. Operator shall mean every natural person, firm, partnership, association, social or fraternal organization, corporation, estate, trust, receiver, syndicate, branch of government or any other group or combination acting as a unit who is the proprietor of a short-term rental, whether in the capacity of owner, lessee, sub-lessee, mortgagee in possession, licensee or any capacity. Where the operator performs his or her functions through a managing agent of any type of character, other than an employee, or where the operator performs his or her functions through a rental agent, the managing agent or the rental agent shall have the same duties as his or her principal. Permit shall mean a short-term rental permit. Short term rental is the use for compensation of all or part of a dwelling unit or accessory dwelling unit which includes but is not limited to a single-family residence, apartment, residential condominium units, townhouses and any and all other residential real estate improvements, in which the public may obtain sleeping accommodations for a period less than thirty (30) consecutive days. The term applies regardless of whether the dwelling was originally constructed or zoned as a residential dwelling.

Sleeping Room shall mean any enclosed habitable space within a dwelling unit which complies with applicable adopted Codes of the City. This shall not be interpreted to include living rooms, family rooms and other similar rooms in which furniture such as fold-down beds or convertible couches are provided on a permanent basis for regular accommodation of residents, temporary or otherwise.

Sec. 53-110.-Purpose of Ordinance.

The purpose of this article is:

(a) To identify short-term rentals operating in the City, better ensure they operate in a manner consistent with public health and safety and promote accountability and preserve the established character of existing neighborhoods, gain contact information for code enforcement and compliance, and encourage the cooperation of short-term rental booking service providers in accomplishing these purposes; and

(c) To allow non-resident short-term rentals to operate in the City in a manner that promotes accountability and preserves the established character of existing neighborhoods; and

(d) To encourage the cooperation of short-term rental booking service providers in accomplishing these purposes; and

(e) To establish regulations for the registration and use of short-term rentals and to ensure among other things that habitation of such units is safe and to provide for the general welfare of residents and visitors.

Sec. 53-150. Short term rentals.

(a) The property owner shall designate themselves or an agent to act on behalf of the owner to comply with the requirements of this Article. The owner or designated agent is sometimes referred to as operator herein.

(b) The owner shall not be relieved from any personal responsibility or personal liability for noncompliance with any applicable law, rule or regulation pertaining to the use and occupancy of the dwelling unit as a short-term rental unit, regardless of whether such noncompliance was committed by the owner, operator, authorized agent or representative or the occupants or guests of the occupants.

(c) This article is not intended to provide any owner/operator of residential property with the right or privilege to violate any city zoning, private conditions, covenants or restrictions applicable to the owner's property that may prohibit the use of such owner's residential property for short term rental purposes as defined in this section or to repeal, abrogate, or impair any existing easements, covenants, or deed restrictions.

(d) Where this article and another ordinance(s) conflict or overlap, whichever imposes the more stringent restrictions shall prevail unless otherwise indicated.

(e) An advertisement promoting the availability of any dwelling unit for short term rental in violation of any provision of this or any ordinance is prima facie evidence of a violation.

(f) A recreational vehicle, motor home, or camper may not be utilized or permitted as a short-term rental.

(g) Maximum occupancy is two (2) persons per sleeping room, plus an additional four (4) per dwelling. For residential properties with more than 3,250 square feet of conditioned living space, the maximum occupancy shall be two (2) persons per sleeping room plus an additional six (6). This section shall apply if in conflict with any other code or occupancy regulation adopted by the City. The maximum occupancy of a short-term rental shall be determined at the time a short-term rental permit is issued or renewed. That capacity shall not be increased by subsequent construction of any addition to the structure covered by the permit or by construction of any other structure located on the property without an inspection and approval by building official and submission of an amended registration form;

(h) All short-term rentals are required to provide 95-gallon garbage containers pursuant to chart below. A dwelling unit with:
1-2 legal sleeping rooms A minimum of 1 (one) garbage container
3-5 legal sleeping rooms A minimum of 2 (two) garbage containers

6 or more legal sleeping rooms
A minimum of 3 (three) garbage containers

Sec. 53-200. Registration and permit.

(a) Prior to using a dwelling unit as a short-term rental or advertising in any manner the availability of the dwelling unit for short term rental, the operator must submit the following information on a form and in the manner prescribed by the Administrator:
(1) The name, mailing address, email and telephone number of the Operator, and Owner if different than Operator, of the subject short-term rental unit;
(2) The name, address, email and twenty-four-hour contact telephone number of a designated local contact person;
(3) The local contact person is the Operator or person designated by the operator who shall be available twenty-four (24) hours per day, seven (7) days per week for the purpose of:

i. Responding in person within thirty (30) minutes to complaints regarding the condition, operation, or conduct of occupants of the short-term rental unit; and
ii. Taking immediate remedial action to resolve any such complaints.

(4) The name (if applicable) and physical address of the proposed short-term rental unit.
(5) The amount of conditioned living square footage of each unit.
(6) The number of sleeping rooms and applicable occupancy limit of the proposed short-term rental unit;
(7) Any additional information the administrator determines necessary for the administration of this section.
(8) A copy of the vesting deed demonstrating proof of ownership.
(9) A parking plan.
(b) A short-term rental permit is not transferable.
(c) Any property owner delinquent and/or owing city fees to include, but not limited to, water, sewer, garbage or gas service fees will be prohibited from registering a short-term rental until such time as payment or acceptable resolution is approved by the administration.
(d) Registration fee; renewal fee.

(1) The short-term rental registration form shall be accompanied by a non-refundable per unit registration fee as established by the City Council and amended from time to time.

(2) The short-term rental registration and renewal fee is $100.00 per year, per unit.

(3) Registration of a short-term rental is valid for twelve (12) months based on the calendar year. Registration fees will not be pro-rated.

(e) Each short-term rental, once properly registered shall be issued a permit with a unique registration number. The registration number must be included in any and all advertisement for the short-term rental including internet booking sites.

Sec. 53-250. - Minimum standards of conduct.

(a) The owner, operator or their agent shall post a tenant information sheet or packet in a visible, prominent interior location at or near the primary entrance. This tenant information sheet or packet shall provide basic, minimum standards of conduct for occupants during their stay in the City of Bay St. Louis. At a minimum the following items must be included on the information sheet or displayed as required:

(1) The name of property's designated contact person including a 24/7 phone number;
(2) Occupancy limit as established at the time of registration and permitting;
(3) Notice that failure to conform to the occupancy and any parking requirements of the City is a violation of City Ordinance and may subject occupants to citation;
(4) Trash collection information to include proper timing and placement of receptacles; and
(5) Location of all required Fire Extinguishers; and
(6) Contact information for local emergency service including fire, dispatch, police and hospital; and
(7) Other information as required by Administrator.
(b) Health and life safety: Owner or operator shall ensure all building and fire related construction conforms to the city's adopted building code.
(c) All floors with an enclosed space of any kind must have a minimum of one (1) Class 2A:10B:C type fire extinguisher (standard 5lb. fire extinguisher) mounted to be conspicuous and convenient for the occupants.
(d) A golf cart made available anytime as part of a short-term rental shall be subject to all requirements of the City of Bay St. Louis Code of Ordinances and registered/permited with the City of Bay St. Louis. If a golf cart is made available, a copy of the Citys golf cart ordinance and map shall be provided.
(e) Non-compliant sleeping rooms shall not be included in the maximum occupancy calculation and notification shall be provided in the tenant information sheet that the noncompliant sleeping room may not be used for sleeping.
(f) Upon a mandatory evacuation issued by Hancock County Emergency Management Agency, all vacation rentals will be immediately evacuated upon notice.

(g) To ensure continued compliance with the requirements of this Section, Short Term Rental properties may be subject to an inspection at registration and on subsequent renewal unless an immediate inspection is required to address a specific concern or suspected violation. The Operator shall be readily available if an immediate inspection is required or warranted. Missing a scheduled inspection will subject the operator to a $100.00 re-inspection fee.

(h) Guests are required to follow all City ordinances, including but not limited to the noise ordinance. Guests shall be mindful of their neighbors and shall not disturb the peace of the community.

(i) Any other standards deemed necessary by the administrator to achieve the objectives of this section.

Sec. 53-255-Parking

In no event shall on-street parking be allowed in any zoning classification or district; this is to include any types of vehicles or trailers. A proposed parking plan shall be submitted with the application.

Sec. 53-260 - Enforcement-Penalty provisions.

(a) A violation under this section is a misdemeanor offense punishable upon conviction by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) per offense. Each day a violation continues shall constitute a separate offense.
(b) In addition to any other penalty provided, the Administrator or Mayors designee may direct the city attorney to institute an action in the court having jurisdiction to enjoin any violation of a provision of any subsection of this article.
(c) If such maximum penalty provided for by this Code or any such offense is greater than the maximum penalty provided for the same or a similar offense under the laws of the State of Mississippi, then the maximum penalty for violation as provided by state statute shall be the maximum penalty under this Code.
(d) The owner/operator shall comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations of Bay St. Louis, the State of Mississippi, and the United States.
(e) A permit may be denied, suspended or revoked for any of the following reasons:
(1) Three (3) or more notices of violation issued within a twelve-month period for any conduct or condition at the short-term rental that constitutes a violation of this article or federal, state or local law;
(2) Providing false or misleading information on a permit application;
(3) Representing a property available or otherwise making a residence available for occupancy or rent as a short-term rental where the property does not hold a valid short-term rental permit;
(4) The permit holder is overdue in payment to the city of taxes, fees, fines, or penalties or fails to provide documentation when requested.
(5) The short-term rental is sold, or ownership is otherwise transferred.
(6) Information provided with the permit application has changed or is no longer accurate and the permit holder has failed to notify the city.
(f) If an application for a short-term rental permit or renewal is denied or the permit subsequently revoked, the owner or operator may appeal to the Mayor by written notice delivered within ten (10) business days of denial or revocation.
(1) The Mayor shall have twenty (20) business days from the date on which the appeal was received in which to give a written decision affirming, modifying, or reversing the denial, suspension, or revocation as applicable.
(2) If the Mayor upholds the denial, suspension, or revocation of a permit, applicant may then, within ten (10) business days of the service of notice of such determination, submit to the City Council Clerk a written request for a hearing to show cause as to why the permit should not be denied, suspended, or revoked, as applicable. A hearing shall be scheduled by the City Council within thirty (30) business days of receipt of applicant's request and notice of the hearing shall be given to applicant ten (10) business days before the hearing. At the hearing, the applicant and City Administration shall present such evidence as may be relevant. The City Council will make the final ruling on the application.
(3) Any notice or decision on the appeal shall be deemed served upon the application when it is personally delivered or on the date it is mailed by United States mail to the name and address set forth on the application for Permit, whichever occurs first.
(4) Any appeal filed pursuant to this chapter shall state succinctly the grounds upon which it is asserted that the determination should be modified or reversed and shall be accompanied by copies of the application for permit, the written notice of the determination of the city, and any other information material to the determination.
(5) Judicial review of any such final decision may be obtained through the filing of an appropriate action that complies with Miss. Code Section 11-51-75 in the Circuit Court of Hancock County, Mississippi.

Sec. 53-265. - Severance.

If any part of this ordinance is invalid or void or is declared to be so, then said part shall be severed from the balance of this ordinance and said invalidity shall not affect the balance of this ordinance, the balance of the ordinance to be read as if said invalid or void portion thereof were not included.

After being reduced to writing, the foregoing Ordinance was read and considered, section by section, and then as a whole, whereupon Council Member DESALVO moved for its adoption, and after a second by Council Member KNOBLOCK, the following roll call vote was had:

PET OF THE WEEK

MEET CAMO!

This boy is just the most innately sweet and loving pup you'll ever meet. He would love to join a family with kids and other playful, friendly dogs. He loves playing with his doggie pals, and getting belly rubs from his human pals. Camo, an American Pit Bull Terrier/Weimaraner mix, is a youngster of about 6 or 7 months old, and is a typical puppy. He's playful, loves toys, and loves everyone he meets, including kids, other dogs, and even kitties! You just have to take one look at his adorable face to see what a goofy, loving, happy pup he is. He will be a joyful addition to any family dynamic. Come meet this cutie-pie during our visiting hours, (Mon, Wed-Fri 10am-3:30pm; Tues 2pm-3:30pm), or call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule an appointment. You may also call/text Denise at 985-285-2244 to arrange a meet-n-greet. Please leave a text message if you receive her voice mail.

ADVERTISEMENT OF PUBLIC HEARING/NO TAX INCREASE:

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON THE PROPOSED BUDGET AND PROPOSED TAX LEVIES FOR THE UPCOMING FISCAL YEAR FOR THE CITY OF WAVELAND

The City of Waveland will hold a public hearing on its proposed budget and proposed tax levies for fiscal year September 30, 2025 on September 5, 2024 at 6:00 pm., Waveland City Hall Boardroom, 301 Coleman Avenue, Waveland MS.

The City of Waveland is now operating with projected total budget revenue of $19,090,848. (15.065 percent) or $2,876,033 of such revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For the next fiscal year, the proposed budget has total projected revenue of $25,451,106. Of that amount, (12.760 percent) or $3,247,593, is proposed to be financed through a total ad valorem tax levy.

The decision to not increase the ad valorem tax millage rate for fiscal 2025 above the current fiscal year's ad valorem tax millage rate means you will not pay more in ad valorem taxes on your home, automobile tag, utilities, business fixtures and equipment and rental real property, unless the assessed value of your property has increased for fiscal year 2025.

Any citizen of the City of Waveland is invited to attend this public hearing on the proposed budget and tax levies for fiscal year 2025 and will be allowed to speak for a reasonable amount of time and offer tangible evidence before any vote is taken.

Shore Thing: The Couples Trip

CONTRIBUTING WRITER

We see many different types of groups on our charters. There are corporate trips, family trips, bachelor parties, and just plain ole guy trips. One of my all time favorites though, is the couples trip.

We had ourselves a whopper of a couples trip this summer. Five couples joined us out at the Cat Island house for three days and two nights of fun, food, and fishing. Scott Heitzman and Glen Landrum have been to the island house before. It has taken a couple years to get the schedules right but they finally pulled it off. They were able to get their friends wrangled together from Florida to Louisiana. That alone was impressive.

It was summertime, so we did have to dodge storms here and there. The group was very easy-going and understood, we had no control over the weather. When it was time to fish we fished. If the storms got too close, we went back to the island house for some air conditioning, food, and relaxation.

These couples have been friends for many years and the stories that were told along, with the new memories created were both outstanding.

Some trips, the girls got on one of the boats, while others it was couples, and others was just a mix and match.

Of course there was competition. Scott takes great pride in his handmade trophies. Everyone was gunning for the biggest speckled trout trophy. I think first place changed hands several times before the last day. The competition was every man and woman for themselves, but all in good fun.

It's just a whole different world out there, on the water. It allows people a chance to kind of disconnect from the phones and reconnect with each other. Most of the conversations we had were very childish and immature, but the laughter and smiles were very noticeable. I can honestly say, it's a special treat watching these couples, who have been married many many years, enjoying their time together like they just started dating a week ago.

Sure, the guys trips are fun.

Corporate trips often help with teambuilding. But to get the most out of your time on the water, I strongly recommend the couples trip. Having a good day on the water with that special someone, is great always a great experience.

Friends of the Animal Shelter in Hancock County Receives I Care for Animals Grant

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO

Friends of the Animal Shelter in Hancock County (FRIENDS) has been awarded a $4,000 I Care for Animals grant from the Mississippi Board of Animal Health. The funds will support the organization's spay/neuter initiative.

The mission of FRIENDS is to mobilize the community to support the Hancock County Animal Shelter, facilitate the spay/neuter of dogs and cats, and improve the general health and welfare of animals in Hancock County. For more information about this charitable organization, visit friendsoftheanimalshelter.org.

The I Care for Animals car tag program is in its twentieth year. The program offers an opportunity for Mississippians to purchase a specialty license plate which benefits animals around the state. The license plates are available at county tax collector's offices.

Proceeds are distributed to animal shelters, humane organizations, counties, and municipalities which make application and meet the criteria for award. Spay/Neuter is the primary focus of the I Care for Animals program.

More information on the I Care for Animals program can be found at mbah.ms.gov.

Ribbon Cuttings

The Hancock Chamber last week hosted a ribbon-cutting ceremony for The Blind Tiger Butcher Shop and Seafood Market's brand new TBT Back Yard Beer Garden. "This is such an unexpected back yard oasis in the Depot District, complete with a huge bar, sand pit for the kids, a fenced-in area for dogs, and a big grass lawn, Chamber Executive Director Tish Haas Williams said. "Don't worry - there is also plenty of shade and seating." And Chef Ricky Peters is on hand with his famous daily lunch specials.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

PROPOSED BUDGET AND PROPOSED TAX LEVIES FOR THE UPCOMING FISCAL YEAR 2025 FOR THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS

The City of Bay St. Louis will hold a public hearing on its proposed budget and proposed tax levies for FYE 2025 on September 3, 2024 at 5:30 p.m. at the Council Chambers, 598 Main Street, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

The City of Bay St. Louis is currently operating with the FY24 total projected budget revenue of $56,108,868, and 7.68 percent or $4,309,716 of revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For the next fiscal year, the proposed FY25 budget has a total projected revenue of $58,171,049. Of that amount, 7.94 percent or $4,620,150 is proposed to be financed through a total ad valorem tax levy.

The decision not to increase the ad valorem tax millage rate for FYE 2025 above the current year's ad valorem tax millage rate means you will not pay more in ad valorem taxes on your home, automobile tag, utilities, business fixtures and equipment and rental real property, unless the assessed value of your property has increased for FYE 2025.

Any citizen of the City of Bay St. Louis is invited to attend this public hearing on the proposed budget and tax levies for fiscal year FYE 2025 and will be allowed to speak for a reasonable amount of time and offer tangible evidence before any vote is taken.

Waveland hears request to fund senior citizens center

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

Last week, the Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen heard from Lora Mederos, executive director of the Hancock County Human Resource Agency, who said when she started working for HCHRA in 1986, the city of Waveland provided funding for the senior citizens program.

“Back then, it was $5,000,” she said. “We received that funding for many years up until five or six years ago, that funding was cut down to $3,000 and then a couple of years ago it was cut to nothing.”

Mederos said the Hancock County Senior Citizens Center, located at 601 Bookter St., Bay St. Louis, services the entire county.

“We do senior center there, congregate meals, and we do a transportation service with Coast Transit Authority,” Mederos said. “They come to Waveland five days a week to pick up any senior, 60 or older, who wants to come and spend at least four hours with us at the senior center. If they need anything else, Arlene Johnson, our program director, will make sure they get that, too. We do local doctor visits, we do local grocery shopping, banking, errands, anything they need to do locally.”

Mederos said the average senior citizen that the HCHRA serves no longer drives.

“Most of them live alone and many of them don’t have anyone,” she said. “Their families have all passed on or their families live somewhere else. So, truly the senior citizen center is their home and their family and we serve them there. I know times are tough and budgets are tight, but we would like for you to consider this.”

Mederos also gave the board a financial report, which includes the entire agency, senior citizens services and the six early childhood and youth development programs, and Brenda’s House Family Center.

HCHRC has 60 employees and three are full-time employees at the senior citizen center.

“That’s all she has,” Mederos said. “Arlene runs that entire program with her and two other people and they do all the cleaning and everything that goes in there is done right there by them. They do a lot of great work there.”

Mederos said the agency currently serves 17 Waveland residents.

Waveland Mayor Jay Trapani said they would take her request under advisement.

YOUR LOCAL FOOTBALL PREVIEW

FOOTBALL 2024: THE TIME IS NOW!

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
STAFF WRITER

The time has come. All eyes are on the gridiron. The king has arrived. Football 2024 is here!

The area saw tremendous football action in 2023 with playoff appearances. There were tremendous performances from SSC's Ian Gonzalez Rios and Hancock's Dylan Moran at quarterback. The trenches were occupied by Ziron Brown and the Rocks' Jacob Bradford.

In the kicking game, Evan Noel has been a mainstay and returns for his final season. Aiden Taylor of Hancock returns for a season of high expectation while Jaylen Antoine returns to tote the rock for the Tigers.

The state of Mississippi has a strong tradition of gridiron excellence with Jackie Slater, Walter Payton, and Jerry Rice considered the finest at their positions ever. Hancock County has just as strong a history with gridiron greats such as Heisman winner Doc Blanchard, NFL Hall of Famer Brett Favre, and All-Pro Tank Williams.

When spring football's final whistle blew during the second week of May, many of us felt like this time of year would struggle to get here.

To make matters worse, the oppressive heat wave that has hung over our heads has only made the time seem to tick more slowly. But the time is now. It is finally here, and we cannot wait for the first whistle from the head zebra on the gridiron.

In the Deep South, this time of the year is special. Cities across our state shutdown to support their local heroes on Friday night. Small worship halls that occupy cutouts on street corners in Pelahatchie, French Camp, and Booneville shine just as bright as the illuminated cathedrals located in Madison, Brandon, and Gulfport and everywhere in between.

For me, in areas like Bay St. Louis, Kiln, and Pass Christian, when I walk into the places of worship, I view it slightly different than most.

Tomorrow night begins my 33rd season of recording the sermons of the head mentors where I find myself worshipping on Friday evenings. Now, that seems like a really long time, but it doesn't feel that way. I can still see the plays from my first season of coverage like it was yesterday.

This is a special year for the newspaper, as well. The All-Sea Coast Echo team turns 25 years old and this old and decrepit sports-writer begins his 33rd year walking the sidelines.

In fact, I will witness my 400th consecutive Friday Night under the Lights on October 4th when the Rocks travel to Stone.

While everywhere is special, this one takes on special significance.

The newspaper wishes all teams, players, coaches, administration, and fans the very best this year.

See you at the game!

THE SEA COAST ECHO WILL PRESENT PLAYERS OF THE WEEK AND ALL-SEA COAST ECHO TEAM All-Sea Coast Echo football team turns 25 in 2024

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
STAFF WRITER

The annual All-Sea Coast Echo football team reaches a monumental birthday following the 2024 season as it turns 25 years old.

The first team was selected following the 2000 season and a team has been selected every year since.

This year the newspaper will again honor an offensive and defensive player of the week selected from nominations made by head coaches from the previous week's action.

In addition to the weekly selections, a nomination packet will be mailed to head coaches the week of October 21-25 to begin the nominating process for the 2024 All-Sea Coast Echo football team.

There will be a deadline for head coaches to mail that back to the newspaper office included in the nominating packet. Only players nominated will be considered for the team.

A photograph will be taken of the All-Sea Coast Echo football first team selections prior to the schools adjournment for the Christmas holiday.

The spread on the team will be published in the Christmas edition of the newspaper.

The newspaper extends its best wishes to the area teams, players, coaches, and school communities during the 2024 season.

• Tigers in search of elusive division title in 2024 •

SUBMITTED PHOTO • The 2024 Bay High Tigers Football Team

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
STAFF WRITER

The Bay High Tigers are prepared to start the season in search of an elusive division title in football. Bay High has several returning starters on both sides of the ball that have become perhaps the most focused squads in recent years according head coach Jeremy Turcotte. Turcotte opened, “This group of seniors has been with me their entire varsity experience. In years past, I have caught myself trying way too hard to be perfect rather than just lining up and playing the game. This year we will have fun playing the game of football and do some simple stuff excellent. This group of players is the most focused group of players I have ever seen and we, as a staff, are excited to see what they are capable of doing.”

The Tigers feature just one full-time returning starter on the line in Brooks Martinez who currently has five junior college offers. Not many teams can say they have a four-year starter at quarterback, but the Tigers can bring in Xander Ladner. Jaylen Antoine returns at running back after leading the Coast in carries last year and has an offer from Mississippi Valley State. Nemo Sowders will line up at safety for Bay High and possesses tremendous length for the position. He currently has four junior college offers. A newcomer that will figure greatly into the Tiger attack includes Avery Harris who has developed into a workhorse for Bay High. This season he will kick, punt, and play wide receiver while also lining up some on defense. Turcotte stated, “The leaders that have been mentioned have proven themselves year in and year out for us. This year we have 14 seniors on the roster

● ROCKS OPEN THIGPEN ERA ●

The 2024 Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
STAFF WRITER

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws are on their third head football coach in as many years with Tate Thigpen taking over the program following one season with Tim Lala who left following the season to become the offensive coordinator at St. Martin High School in Jackson County.

Last year, the Rocks went 9-2 overall and advanced to the second round of the Class 3A state playoffs under Lala and won the first division title on the gridiron since 2016. Thigpen, who served as offensive coordinator for the program last season, has stepped up to the podium as the head coach; however, a lot of the talent from the team last season has moved on the next level including the human highlight reel QB Ian Gonzalez Rios who signed with PRCC and defensive stalwart Jacob Bradford who is bringing his penchant for making stops to Louisiana Tech University. Ethan Gallo way, a wide receiver last year, is bringing his route running ability to PRCC. Thigpen commented, “The players have responded well to everything that we have thrown at them this summer. We have worked hard in the weightroom, had some competitive 7-on-7 skills, and have installed some key work on both sides of the football. Sam Grant looks much better and more comfortable at quarterback than he did in April. He has worked hard. From an offensive point of view, that is where everything begins with this offense. He has to be able to see what is going on quickly, make the reaction and read, and deliver that to the offense. He has really improved to the point that we feel we have another coach on the field. Andrew Whitney has also put in some tremendous work and has come a long way since the spring learning a new position. What we are working on now is trying to find depth at positions on both sides of the ball. Our staff has worked tirelessly this summer to help get the players in the best position for success.” Thigpen and Grant have the monumental task of following one of the most exciting players to put on a red and black jersey in Ian Gonzalez Rios who ran the ball with terrific vision, proved to be a solid passer, and was a highlight reel in the return game. The offensive line returns several faces that saw action last season

HAWKS AIM FOR VICTORY IN 2024

The 2024 Hancock Hawks Football Team squares off last week against the Bay High Tigers for the annual Jamboree. The Hawks team photo was not availalbe by press time Tuesday.

As the Hancock Hawks prepare for the upcoming 2024-2025 campaign, optimism is in the air, with the team coming off two straight playoff appearances. The Hawks returns three starters on offense and eight starters on defense this year; however, Coach Neil Lollar stated that “this is not a rebuilding year — we have a lot of players on this team that started various times throughout last year.”

As far as team goals, Lollar said, “We will take it one week at a time and hopefully stack wins that will lead us into the playoffs.” The Hawks’ spring and summer preparations included strength and conditioning and seven-on-seven drills, Lollar said. The Hawks’ key players on offense this year will be junior quarterback Kaison Koenenn; senior wide receiver Kaleb Schafer; and senior tight end Gabe Fricke, Lollar said. On defense, the key players will be senior linebacker Tyrone

Ramsey; senior outside linebacker Julyan Santee; and senior outside linebacker Aidan Taylor. Hancock will kick off its non-conference schedule on Sept. 30, versus Natchez, followed by Moss Point, Petal, St Martin, Vancleave, and Florence. Hancock district play begins on Oct. 11, at West Harrison, followed by George County, Pascagoula, Long Beach and Poyune. This year’s Hancock Hawks coaching Staff with starters Alston Davidson, Sam Lejeune, and Robert Kergosien. Others that are figuring into action are Garren Couey, Salvatore Riccardi, and Peter Hanlon.

Stepping up on the outside catching the ball will be Adam Oliver, Christian Haas, Finn Williford, Tripp Lee, Chris Failla, and Lance Vaughn.

Running the ball will be Brayden McDonald, Henry Nunmaker, and Stephen Hutchison.

Thigpen added, “We have several players that will line up at wide receiver. Christian Haas has shown he has reliable hands along with Finn Williford and Adam Oliver. At running back, Brayden McDonald has a lot of upside to his game and we are looking to see what he can do. Henry Nunmaker is a three-year player and brings some experience to that position. In the

and all of them will be contributors to our game plan on Friday nights. That is something that you don't see too often.”

There have been some surprises for Turcotte and his staff this summer. Noah Smith is a safety who was presented the #0 which is given to the team's most selfless player. Turcotte calls him the quarterback of the defense. Zander Saunders and Clayton Buckley-Imes are both defensive linemen who are self-made players and have impressed the staff. Charles Richardson is a fullback/wingback who is the strongest player pound-for-pound on the squad and is described by Turcotte as extremely intense.

Turcotte ended, “This is a team that I am not sure how good we can be, but I think it hinges on the players realizing how good they are capable of being. It has been a fun summer, and we are looking forward to getting this season underway.”

The Tigers played a jamboree with Hancock last week and came away a winner 13-7. This week the Tigers officially open the 2024 season with a home game against Resurrection High School. The Tigers will compete in Division 8-4A with Pass Christian, Poplarville, Moss Point, and Greene County. See you at the game!

pening on that side of the ball. Thigpen stated, “We are being led on the defensive side by coordinator Shane Edwards. He has been able to get a lot of his system installed this summer and the players are getting more comfortable with it. We have a decent rotation of lineman up front with Alston Davidson, Sam Lejeune, Robert Kergosien, and others followed by a linebacking crew that is getting better each day with reps in practice. Andrew Whitney, Nick Shannon, and Finn Williford are leading the way for us there. At defensive back, we feel that we have a solid group back there led by Max Rhodes and Henry Nunmaker.”

The Rocks opened the season with jamboree action at D'Iberville last week falling 35-17 to the Class 7A Warriors. It was a close game for the first quarter with the Rocks down just 14-10 after one period of play. Brayden McDonald scored on a 2-yard dive and an 80-yard interception return for the Rocks while Evan Noel booted a 52-yard field and two PATs.

Thigpen ended, “I thought we had terrific effort tonight, but we turned the ball over way too much. Teams will not win a game with turnovers like that. We can't fumble the ball and toss interceptions and expect to win games. Later in the half, we did not tackle well which allowed D'Iberville to impose their will on us. We have to tackle better.”

The Rocks open the 2024 season and Thigpen era with Forrest County AHS tomorrow on the road at 7 p.m. The Rocks will compete in Division 8-3A against Tylertown, Perry Central, West Marion, and St. Patrick. See you at the game!

JOIN US DAILY AT POWERHOUSE OF DELIVERANCE MINISTRIES, INC.
FROM 6PM—7PM FOR
21 Days of Prayer
SEPTEMBER 1—21, 2024

Since the beginning of our church in 1984, we have been a people of prayer. Our rally cry has been, “Pray First”. In every situation, whether good or bad, we try to pray before we act. Instead of acting first before turning to God, prayer should be our first response, not our last resort.

Understanding the necessity of prayer is not enough. In order for it to become a part of our life, it needs to become something we look forward to. I’m convinced most people don’t enjoy prayer because they have never been taught how to pray. That’s where a prayer journal can help. By using this simple prayer journal, one can adopt several prayer models from the Bible and develop guidelines that make your prayer more personal. When you discover the beauty of daily conversation with him, you’ll experience the presence of God that will change your life.

Once you learn how to pray, prayer can become a part of everyday life, and then...
